(U) IDENTITY THEFT - OPSEC for SID Personnel

FROM: ██████████████
SID OPSEC Program Manager (S02L3)
Run Date: 08/06/2004

(U) Hope everyone is enjoying Maryland's crazy weather this summer and your leave plans while still practicing good OPSEC in your personal life while on vacation, and being alert of your surroundings.

(U//FOUO) We are pleased to announce the offering of the following UNCLASSIFIED seminar (registration required):

- TITLE: IDENTITY THEFT
- PRESENTER: ██████████, Interagency OPSEC Support Staff
- DATE: 2 SEPTEMBER 2004
- TIME: 0930-1130 hours
- LOCATION: Headquarters,Room 9A135.

(U) DESCRIPTION:
Identity theft is becoming more and more common these days. From running up stolen credit card purchases to creating false identification cards or passports, identity thieves have myriad reasons for stealing your identity. Thieves can find out information about you from simply rummaging through your garbage cans and pilfering your mailbox to involving you in telephone and Internet scams.

(U) This workshop gives a comprehensive understanding of:

- How identities are stolen;
- How the stolen identity might be used;
- What to do if your identity is stolen; and,
- How to protect yourself from becoming a victim.

(U) OPEN for all SID employees. Limited seating, please register early.

(U) Please join us in learning about this fast growing crime and some simple tricks on how to keep it from happening to you.

(U) On a related note, we also want to thank everyone for the positive remarks we have received from those who have completed OPSEC 1201 and are pleased that you found this course to beneficial. If you missed our previous announcements, we're talking about Introduction to OPSEC for SID Personnel (OPSEC 1201) which is available via Vuport or "Go Vuport".

(U//FOUO) Any questions related to OPSEC issues, please contact your SID OPSEC Program Managers, ██████████████ and ██████████████████ on ██████████████ or your SID SSO .
